

The Role of Northwest Renal Network in Handling Grievances

Patient Toll- Free Number for Northwest Renal Network: 1-800-262-1514

Northwest Renal Network is a non-profit organization funded by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. Its mission is to promote optimal dialysis and transplant care for kidney patients in Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington.

One of its most important responsibilities is to serve as an unbiased, outside review agency. Patients, family members, facility staff, and others may contact the Network regarding the care provided to patients at Medicare-certified facilities.

What should you expect when contacting the Network?

Network staff will encourage you to try to work out your concerns with the staff at your facility and may make suggestions on how to approach the situation. However, you are not required to try to work out the concerns with your facility before requesting Network assistance.

Network staff will offer you several options when you call including:

- Confidential Consultation – you just want to talk with someone about your care or want information and resources.
- Immediate Advocacy – you want the Network to help you and the facility find a solution for your concerns. The Network will investigate your concerns and work towards a solution.
- Quality of Care Review – you want the Network to investigate, and your concerns involve potential adverse clinical outcomes or violation of rights for you and/or other patients.
- Referral – your situation or concerns fall under the responsibility of another agency. You will be provided with the contact information for the other agency.

You may switch options at any time or completely withdraw your request for assistance. Your identity will not be revealed unless you authorize it. You may make anonymous reports to the Network.

What is involved in a Quality of Care Review?

If your concerns indicate that a quality of care review is needed, you will receive a written acknowledgement of your grievance. Network staff will respond to your grievance. Steps in the response may include the following:

- Investigate the situation
- Submit the grievance for review by the Network Medical Review Board – a group of social workers, doctors, nurses, patients and dietitians
- Request documentation and/or perform on-site investigations
- Request the facility to make any necessary changes
- Provide you a written summary of the investigation and findings

As always, the Network is here to help with any concerns about care received. To file a grievance please contact Northwest Renal Network using our contact information below:
