

VOLUNTEER WITH THE KIDNEY COMMUNITY EMERGENCY RESPONSE (KCER) PROGRAM

As a dialysis or transplant patient, do you have ideas about how to improve emergency and disaster preparedness? KCER is looking for patients to help improve the planning process for ESRD patients by volunteering as a patient Subject Matter Expert (SME). As an SME, you will have the opportunity to participate by:

- Providing input into KCER activities through phone calls and emails
- Serving as a member of a KCER workgroup (see below) to review and develop patient educational materials and quality improvement projects
- Promoting patient and family involvement in KCER emergency and disaster preparedness planning

Sign-up today by faxing or mailing this completed flyer to KCER. We will contact you to provide more information and answer any questions you have. We look forward to your participation!

KCER Workgroups:

- Communication
- Clinical Issues
- Facility Operations
- Infectious Disease
- Training

For additional information, contact Beverly Whittet at 813.865.3317 or BWhittet@nw7.esrd.net.

Here's what volunteers have to say...

"...I must give back and help educate others regarding emergency planning. The value of those who have walked before you is priceless."

Julie Glennon-Roy, Medical Review Board and Board of Director's Member

"...If I can help another patient plan better for emergencies, then my work as a patient mentor and KCER volunteer will have been worth it!"

Jasper Travis, Patient Advisory Committee Chair

"...Since I have been involved with KCER and emergency preparedness, I have been able to assist and enrich the lives of those afflicted with chronic and end stage renal disease."

Joe Karan, Patient Subject Matter Expert
